

BUILD CAPACITY.
ENCOURAGE INNOVATION.
FOSTER CHANGE.

Located just minutes away from Research Triangle Park, North Carolina, Pillar Consulting offers a variety of research and evaluation services to non-profit, academic, and philanthropic organizations. Drawing upon the expertise of top researchers, practitioners, students and community advocates in area, we partner with organizations to engage and mobilize stakeholders in setting evaluation priorities and establishing clear programmatic goals. From logic model creation to the development of evaluation planning tools, we work closely with clients to ensure a balance between methodological rigor and organizational capacity.

We understand the importance of creating an environment in which there is reciprocal learning and mutual respect between our team and our clients, and pride ourselves on offering innovative solutions for client evaluation needs. Our work in urban and rural, as well as, domestic and international settings offer unique perspectives that will prove valuable for any organization engaging with communities.
